MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

Mr. Henry E. Thompson, editor of the Paducah News, will be married Sept. 4th to Miss Blanche LaFwick, of Memphis.

The county clerk of Pulaski has issued 329 marriage licenses since January 17 and has opened a new book. The old one shows Abraham Lincoln Jasper's name on the first page and Abraham Lincoln Strunk's on the last.—Reporter.

Garnett D. Thompson, son of Hon. Phil B. Thompson, and Miss Lizzie Young, of Nicholasville, eloped to Lexington a few days ago and were married. Mr. Thompson is a very bright and popular young man, while his bride is a very lovely young lady both in character and appearance and has many friends here, made during her visits to Miss Lucy Tate.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

Robert Chesney, an aged citizen of Wayne, died last week.

Sam W. Wilhite, father of Mrs. Sam M. Wilhite, and a prominent Louisville business man, is dead.

Mr. J. F. Ferrell, who was for a while agent at Rowland, died last week at Paris, Texas, of typhoid fever.

Mrs. Julia Jackson Christian, only child of Stonewall Jackson, died Friday at Charlotte, N. C., where her husband is the editor of a democratic paper. The remains were taken to Lexington, Va., to be interred by those of her illustrious father.

Mrs. W. A. Coffey died at her home near McKinney Saturday of consumption, leaving besides a loving husband three children to suffer her loss. She was a devout member of the Baptist church and died in the triumph of the faith. Rev. Mr. Ward preached the funeral sermon at McKinney Sunday to a large crowd of friends, who joined with the husband in the great sorrow that had come upon him.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

Rev. R. R. Noel reports 30 conversions and baptisms for the month of August.

Elder G. W. Yancey closed a meeting at Ruddell's Mill, in Bourbon, with 45 additions.

It was all a mistake about the date of the Kentucky Conference being changed. It will meet at Paris Sept. 11, as first announced.

Rev. Percy G. Elsom has resigned his pastorate at Quitman, Ga., and will enter the Theological Seminary at Louisville again.

All Owen county is torn up over the trial of Rev. John Wildrop, a prominent Baptist preacher, who is charged by Miss Charity Chidlers with being the father of the child recently born to her.

Bro. Barnes does not seem to be ap- preated in the southern part of the State. The newspapers state that he lectures to small crowds which respond most niggardly to the call for money at the close.

As the Presedential Baptist Association will be held at Walnut Flat on the 3d Sunday, Rev. R. H. Caldwell will not fill his regular appointment, but will preach at that church on next Friday and Saturday nights and Sunday morn ing instead.

The British and Foreign Bible Society reports that the sacred Scriptures were last year translated into six fresh languages. The number of tongues in which this society now publishes the Bible is thus increased to 300. Fifty years ago it was published in 150 tongues. The society distributed 4,200,000 volumes during the year.

Constable Kirby shot and killed Jim Groves at Berea because he refused to pay the costs in a law suit. Groves was known as a blustering, quarrelsome fellow, but was not considered dangerous and was unarmed when shot. He leaves a wife and several children in needy circumstances.

A difficulty took place in Jones' saloon at Jellico between Sid Davis, deputy clerk of the Whitley county court, and D. Y. Lawson, a school teacher, also of Whitley county, in which Davis was shot in the abdomen and is thought to be mortally wounded. He had called Lawson a d—n lying son-of-a-b—h.—News.

A letter in the official envelope of the United States Post office Department received at Reidsville, N. C., notifying a colored citizen of that place of his appointment as a poste agent in the mail service, had to be forwarded to the State penitentiary where the new appointee is serving a term of three years for a burglary committed after filing his application. If he were in for only a year or so the place might be kept open for him, but unless an arrangement can be made with the State to let him out, perhaps a new appointment should be made.—Chicago Herald.

Figures tell the story. On August 1, 1888, under Cleveland, the public debt statement showed a debt of $1,157,299; on August 1, 1889, under Harrison, it showed an increase of $1,317,312. Turn the scales out.—St. Louis Republic.

LANCASER, GARRARD COUNTY.

Wm. Totten went on duty at John W. Miller's distillery yesterday. This is first republican storekeeper in this country who has begun work under the Huron Administration.

The Lancaster and Crab Orchard Turnpike Company elected the old board of directors last Saturday. Joe Weisiger was elected to fill the vacancy made by the death of Jethl S. Gill.

Circuit court adjourned last Friday night. The lawyers remained up until very late watching each other. Judge Morrow knows how to keep an orderly court and how to keep things going and he does it.

The Best will case was tried again this term of the court and the will again sustained by the jury. This makes 21 men who have under oath declared that Best had brain enough to distribute that which the same brain had accumulated.

The local option law seems to have a poor showing here. A jury of this court fined Dan West $75 for selling whisky, 12 men agreeing he was guilty. During the same court one lawyer upset it all and now Dan is a free man without any fine assessed against him. Technicians create mobs and a contempt for the courts.

Mr. James Phillips and wife, of Nashville, Tenn., have been here for several days on a visit to their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. T. J. R. Turner and wife, at the Holmes House. Mr. Phillips is a prominent coal merchant at Nashville. He passed through here a number of years ago, but was rather hurried on that trip as the "vamps" were hot after him, he having been in the battle of Perryville. He is a companionable man and a splendid gentleman. Mrs. Maggie Salter, of Arkansas, is visiting relatives here. Judge M. H. Loville will move to Somerset in a few days. He intends to make that good and growing city his future home.

MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

Four prisoners in jail.

Circuit Court began here Monday.

George Fredricks has bought Pat Welsh's grocery.

Mrs. William Stewart died last week of cancerous troubles.

A little four-year-old son of Jap McCall died of camp last week.

W. M. Weber, formerly of this place, is building a large hotel at Middlesboro. Frank McHargue, of Pine Hill, has returned from Washington, Tenn., in bad health.

William McGraw is in jail here in default of $1,000 bail charged with the murder of Tom Collins, who was found dead two weeks since in the southern part of this county.

J. W. Brown and E. B. Smith have purchased the Signal and will add new presses, type, &c. The first issue will appear about the 15th. Mr. Cross will probably establish a paper at London.

Mrs. Bell Wiggs of Boyle, is visiting this place. J. W. Nesbitt and wife are at Middlesboro. Richard Welsh took a trip to Cincinnati last week. W. H. Spindlin and wife, of Birmingham, Ala., were here during last week. Miss Matilde Williams left Monday for an extended visit to Carthage and Chicago, Ill.

The Steele Bros. had their horses probation in a trotting entry at Lexington, but of course nothing by that name could win a race.

It is estimated that the American wheat crop is 500,000,000 bushels, or $1,000,000 more than last year. The crop in the oil world is 12,000,000 bushels short.

A barge loaded with 2,000 bushels of new wheat, belonging to E. N. Heyman & Co., of Versailles, was sunk in the Kentucky river, near Clifton, last week; loss $1,400.

The Nashville Banner says that Mr. John M. Bass figures the number of Spanish and other jacks imported to Nashville since 1882 at 600. They have been sold mostly in Davidson and Sumner counties and foot up a business of some $20,000.

If a million bushels of wheat were loaded on freight cars, 500 bushels to the car, it would fill a train 15 miles long, if transported by wagons the line would be 142 miles long. And yet we consume and export more than 400,000,000 bushels of wheat annually.

The wine product of California this year is now put at 12,000,000 gallons, instead of 20,000,000, the early estimate of this year's vintage. The reduction is partly due to sunburn and mildew, but more largely to the fact that wine grapes representing 2,000,000 gallons have been diverted to the production of raisins, while 4,000,000 more will be manufactured into brandy.

The Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station indicates that the injuries of the disease known as potato rot or blight may be prevented by spraying the vines with a solution of sulphate of copper and lime. The experiment was conducted by the French as an excellent restorative in delity of the digestive organs.—Scientific American.

The Laurel Fair, as Seen by the I. J. Man.

The fourth annual fair given by the Laurel County Fair Association, will go into history and be memorable for years to come as being a most pleasant and profitable one. In the first place, the show of stock surpassed any former efforts and the crowds which daily attended flooded the place to overflowing, and secondly, everything had been carefully arranged to make the work of each day go off with that business like manner that a clock notes the time by its tick.

President Farris, Secretary Evans and the other officers deserve unlimited credit and notwithstanding they are somewhat absent from the Fair district of Kentucky, they are thoroughly up to the times and know as well how to make their fair a success as the next crop of fair men, it matters not who they be.

I had wished and really intended to take in the London Fair from beginning to end, but business, and of course a business manager always has business, prevented and I had to content myself with one day—Friday. The last day is always the largest and got to see the biggest crowd and the best show, even if I did come in at the last hour. The morning was spent in showing colts, brood mares, combined horses, &c., but the evening was given to races, when running, trotting and pacing were indulged in and altogether the programme was of as great a variety of good sport as even a Harrodsburg man could wish. In the principal trotting race Dr. Foster won, that good old democrat and splendid gentleman, George T. Farris, second and Lincoln county John Bastin, driving a Lincoln county horse, third. The running race was easily won by Mr. Jones, of this county, while the pacing premium was taken in by Mr. McWhorter, also of this county.

Decidedly the most interesting ring to me was the "Ladies riding ring" in which gracefulness was particularly considered. There were six as pretty contestants as ever graced a fair ring or sited a Kentucky saddle. Never in my life did I so wish that there was some way that each of the dear creatures could leave the ring "with the coveted blue ribbon dangling at their horses' heads and it was one time I felt like shouting, Heaven reward the dear ones with something more substantial than a blue ribbon testimonial for creating the old stage myself included, to a scene where beauty and grace played such a conspicuous and delightful part.

Fair week in Kentucky evidently means a week of gayety and it is a queer town indeed that does not afford merriment for the young folks each evening of it. London was not unlike the rest and hops, parties and festivals took up each night, making the last week of summer a veritable gala one for London society people. On Friday Miss Jackson delightfully entertained her large circle of friends, all of whom enjoyed to the fullest extent the hospitality of that elegant young lady.

The traveling public and in fact all who have stopped with Capt. Frank Bailey, at the Jackson House, will regret to learn that that gentleman will soon return from the hotel business. He has built a handsome residence and will move thither in a few weeks and live a more private life and probably study for the ministry or take up some other good calling.

Messrs. Charles B. Brock and M. T. Young rendered me deeply under obligations to them for introducing me around and speaking a good word for the I. J. Both of them are at liberty to draw on this office for any favor they may desire.

Medical Properties of Vegetables.

The following information may be useful to some at this season of the year, if not new to many.

Spinach has a direct effect upon the kidneys.

The common dandelion, used as greens, is excellent for the same trouble.

Asparagus purges the blood. Celery acts admirably upon the nervous system and is a cure for rheumatism and neuralgia.

Tomatoes act upon the liver.

Beets and turnips are excellent appetizers.

Lettuce and cucumbers are cooling in their effects upon the system.

Onions, garlic, leeks, olives and shallots all of which are similar, possess medical virtues of a marked character, stimulating the circulatory system and the consequent increase of the saliva and the gastric juice promoting digestion.

Red onions are an excellent diuretic, and the white ones are recommended to be eaten raw as a remedy for insomnia. They are a tonic and nutritious.

A soup made from onions is regarded by the French as an excellent restorative in delity of the digestive organs.—Scientific American.

You Cannot Afford

At this season of the year to be without a good reliable diarrhoea balsam in the house, as cramps, diarrhoea and all inflammation of the stomach and bowels are exceedingly dangerous if not attended to at once. One bottle of Beggs' Blood Purifier & Blood Maker will remove the cause and the skin will become clear and transparent. Try it, and if satisfaction is not given it will cost you nothing. It is fully warranted. A. R. Penny, Druggist.

LONDON, LAUREL COUNTY.

School commences at Laurel Seminary Monday.

Rev. H. C. Medaris preached at the court-house Saturday night and Rev. S. K. Raney occupied the pulpit at the Methodist church Sunday night.

Circuit Court commenced in Barboursville Monday. There are several murder cases to be tried there this term.

Matt Steele was shot and dangerously wounded Saturday evening by Tom Province. The difficulty occurred over a settlement. They lived about five miles northeast of London. Mr. Province is a farmer and Mr. Steele runs a saw-mill.

Charles Gundest, butcher, lost a fine beef Monday night. He shot it, but as the animal got away he supposed he had missed it and was somewhat surprised when he found him dead in the road about half a mile from his house Tuesday morning.

It has been reported by parties passing through here that more trouble is expected in Perry between A. L. Brangham and posse, who are located at Hindman, Knott county, and Hays, French & Co., who are rendezvous at the mouth of Bull's Fork, Perry county, about 18 miles distant.

A two-year-old child of Mr. D. A. Loville fell through the seats at the fair Thursday and was considerably stunned at first, but soon recovered. Mr. G. W. Calvert was knocked down by a horse Friday and slightly bruised. Dick Harbin was run over by one of the show horses in the pony ring Thursday which rendered him unable for duty for several days.

The Laurel County Fair, held here last week, was well attended, better than ever before, there being about 3,000 people on the grounds the last day. The fair exhibits showed considerable improvement over last year and the stock show was also much better, there being a great deal more stock exhibited this year and all the adjoining counties were well represented, and premiums were awarded to parties from Clay, Knox, Puskin, Rockcastle and Jackson counties. The stockholders seem to be well pleased with the way the fair was conducted this year and have doubtless made money out of it, but the directors have been considerably censured for allowing gambling tables and other gambling devices on the grounds. Little boys could frequently be seen betting on them. The parties who kept these tables were arrested after the fair was over and held in bonds for their appearance here at circuit court, the fair directors being their bondsmen. At one time while these gambling tables were in full blast and money was changing hands on the horse races, it did seem little inappropriate when the band played "Nearer My God to Thee," but I don't suppose the band boys thought of what was going on when they made the selection. This gambling business will be thoroughly investigated by the next grand jury.

CRAB ORCHARD.

The first session of Crab Orchard College will begin September 2d, 1889. The services of a competent assistant have been secured.

We respectfully solicit the patronage of the people of Lincoln county. Having had twenty years' experience in teaching we claim to have learned some of the secrets of imparting instruction. We will earnestly endeavor that neither the time of the pupil nor the money of the patron shall be spent in vain. T. H. Stephenson.

—W. H. Chubbs, of Kentucky, was elected Chaplain of the G. A. R.

A deposit of asphalt has been discovered near Cloperton. It covers a large area and is 3 feet thick. It is just below the surface and can be mined at very small cost. A comparison of it with asphalt discovered in California and used on the streets of San Francisco shows the two to be almost identical in quality.

—S. L. Perry, who claims that he took 7,000 negroes from North Carolina to Indiana in 1888 and voted them for the republicans, went to Washington recently to get his reward. A chief of a division offered him the position of boot black and carriage driver for his family, which so incensed him that he gave the snap away.

—J. T. Jones, a well-to-do farmer has mysteriously disappeared. Ten days ago he came from Nicholasville, had a check cashed at Danville and left for a stranger in a road wagon and was recognized by a Miss Green, on Dix River, late the evening he left Danville. He is supposed to have had on his person when he left Danville between $700 and $1,000.

The Pride of Woman.

A clear, pale, transparent skin is always a sign of pure blood, and all persons troubled with dark, greasy, yellow or bluish skin can rest assured that their blood is out of order. A few doses of Beggs' Blood Purifier & Blood Maker will remove the cause and the skin will become clear and transparent. Try it, and if satisfaction is not given it will cost you nothing. It is fully warranted. A. R. Penny, Druggist.

W. P. WALTON.

AFFAIRS ARE NOT altogether lovely in the Mahone camp, notwithstanding the National Committee patched up a truce which was signed by all parties. John Wise still has many followers who do not take kindly to the little boss and there is no telling what the erratic Kiddeberger will do. Ex Congressman Yost, of Staunton, seems to have kicked out of the traces, too, for he says in his paper, the Valley Virginian, a very influential sheet: "We will not support Mahone for governor. The body that nominated him was not a republican convention, representing the sentiment of the State. It was Gen. Mahone's caucus acting under orders and in accordance with the programme prescribed by the general." The best men of the State, who have heretofore acted with the republican party, will not support Mahone, whose election every decent man would deplore, since it would bring to the front the worst element of society and be a step very far towards negro supremacy.

The news comes from Washington that Tanner has decided to oust Gen. Baile from the Pension Agency at Louisville at once to make room for a republican. The three prominent applicants are Gen. W. J. Landrum, of Lancaster, Judge Vincent Boring, of London, and Dr. C. A. Walton, of Munfordsville. It is claimed in some quarters that Gen. Landrum's chances were either destroyed or materially injured by the appointment of Col. Collier, as it is not likely that the president would agree to give two such important offices to the same town, but you can't always tell about these matters. Col. Bradley is backing him and that seems to mean a great deal. On the other hand Judge Boring is confident of success, while Dr. Walton is exceedingly hopeful. Three cleverer or worthier aspirants for the same office are seldom found, and no matter which gets it, the honor will be well bestowed.

Mr. JAMES B. MARTIN, of Barren, candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, made most favorable impression on our people. He is a born gentleman, of modest and taking manners and makes friends wherever he goes. A higher testimonial to his ability, worth and popularity could not be adduced than is given in the fact that he has for three successive terms been elected circuit clerk of his county without opposition. This 18 years of experience has fully equipped him for the office he seeks and if elected he will fill it most acceptably. In the 3d, 4th and 11th districts he is very strong and is certain of adding to his strength everywhere he goes.

DR. HAMMOND, the well-known physician and surgeon, contributes a long article to the North American in which he argues that science will yet discover a fountain of youth. The Brown-Sequard elixir is a step in that direction, though it may not be the thing. On the other hand Dr. David Yandell contends in an article in the Courier-Journal that the whole effort is a delusion and a snare; that it is against nature and that when age robs a man of his faculties they are gone to stay. Thus do the doctors differ. Meanwhile we shall live in hope that Dr. Hammond is right and die in despair only when we cannot help it.

JUDGE FULLAM, the murderer, who wanted the alleged despoiler of his home to pay him $5,000 and call the matter square, failing to procure which he shot him dead in his own office, decided after sleeping on the matter that 15 years were about as little as he could expect for a crime so unnatural and withdrew his notice of appeal. He was taken immediately to Frankfort and will try his hand on working the governors for a pardon as each new one makes his appearance.

TWO colored editors, who lit out from Selma, Ala., after printing the most incendiary articles to stir up strife between the races, were not hung at all, though perhaps they ought to have been. They are now in Washington telling terrible tales into the willing ears of sympathizing scamps, and hoping to receive substantial recognition from the administration. There was evidently much method in the madness of the black rascals.

SARAH'S majority is 33,522, it has at last been ascertained, lacking just 28 of being double that of Gov. Buckner two years ago and about 5,000 more than Cleveland's last year. The nomination of Colson didn't prove such an "inspiration" after all. Jack Barnet's discretion was much better than the Bell county man's valor, which seems to have been of that nature which rushes in where angels fear to tread.

AFTER a protracted debate and some change in the wording of the resolution, the G. A. R. encampment passed one endorsing Looter Tanner and thanking the president for appointing him to rob the people in their behalf. A resolution demanding a service pension was also passed and the fellows who are out for the stuff having again saved the country departed for their homes.

The Somerset Reporter continues to evince unnecessary concern about affairs in this county and the course of this paper relative thereto, but it had just as well rest its soul in peace. It accuses us of trying to "proscribe democrats who chose to vote against Dick Warren" and advises us to go slow. The accusation is as unfounded as its advice is unsolicited. We are not aware that any democrats to speak of voted against Mr. Warren. We do and shall continue to kick, however, against the persons who voted against him attempting to exercise dominion over him and marking out his course of action in the legislature. They staked their all on Montgomery and having lost and at the same time failed in their effort to break up the democratic party in the county, it is not theirs to dictate to the victors or say what and what not their representative shall do. Mr. Warren will endeavor to represent the whole people to the best of his ability but the minority cannot be permitted to issue its orders with the expectation of having him obey without demur.

The Critic, Dan E. O'Sullivan's new paper, fulfills the high expectations concerning it and is as pretty typographically as it is bright and incisive editorially. We hope and believe it has come to stay and that a rich return of ducats will wait upon the energy and ability of its indefatigable editor. There is one paragraph in the first number that causes us alarm, however, that with reference to our friend, Judge Boyd. Remember, old fellow, we are under a $500 bond to answer an indictment for libelling the judge, when the charges we printed were not so severe as the ones you make. First thing you know we shall be in the same boat, or rather the same cell, and while misery loves company, we should dislike to see the career of so young and so useful a man cut suddenly short. Therefore beware.

IS speaking on support of a resolution favoring an amendment to the pension law by which soldiers' widows should continue to receive pensions in the event of their re-marriage, Tanner raised a howl of indignation by stating: "I want to say that to fall to adopt some such a rule is to place a premium upon immorality. There is not a week that there are not a great many cases that come to my knowledge where women have made lambskins of their virtue to retain a pension." This slander on the American woman was rebuked both by hisses and the tabling of the resolution by a large vote. The commissioner of pensions is an ass, who never fails to exhibit his true inwardness when he can get the chance.

JUDGE COOPER was particularly severe on pistol-toters in his charge to the grand jury at Owingsville and asserted that the man who habitually carried a concealed deadly weapon branded himself a coward. It is indeed a cowardly practice, but one almost universally indulged in by Kentuckians. In nearly all gatherings every other man is loaded down with a pistol and most every one of these law violators are ready to use them and become more criminal if they can get the drop. The man or boy who makes a practice of carrying concealed weapons is an object of contempt and ought to be so regarded by every decent man.

COL. HAVENS is so obtuse that he credits to us sentiments that we endeavored to show were French Tipton's, relative to the executive committee of the K. P. A. Too much has already been said about a very small matter and we shall not be drawn further into the controversy. The committee is good enough for us in every way and since Son-in-law Shepard so bitterly maligned the South in his speech before the Detroit Convention, we are glad no Kentuckians were present. There might have been a tragedy had there been.

THE public debt statements issued at the end of each month show a decrease no longer, as they did under democratic rule. The August statement shows an increase of a million and a half and a reduction of the surplus from $77,000,000 to $10,000,000. It will not take long at this rate to put the balance on the other side of the ledger. The rascals are daily adding to the necessity of turning them out and the people will do it in 1892 for good and all.

THE Falmouth Democrat has reached its fourth year, and its editor, Mr. J. W. Peck, reports that its growth has been steady and healthful. It is soundly democratic and worthy the patronage of its people. Mr. Peck has many relatives in this county, who will be glad to know of his prosperity.

IT is passing strange that the young fellow from Paducah should forge the name of the great prohibition apostle, Judge Fontaine T. Fox, to a check to obtain the wherewithal to buy liquor. That name of all others should have protected it against being used for so vile a purpose.

IT is now said that the affirmative vote on the constitutional question will show a majority of all the voters of the State and leave no base of operations for those who hoped to defeat the measure by an appeal to the courts.

AN election for a Congressman to fill a vacancy occasioned by death occurs in the 3d Louisiana district to-day. The democrats claim they will elect their man by 8,000.

THE ADVOCATE says that Dr. W. L. Stillwell, an impostor, who was doing the horsemen as veterinary surgeon, skipped, just as he was about to be nabbed for robbery on a requisition from Michigan. He brought a young wife with him to Danville, but a former one with six children put in her claim by letter and it was upon this clew that the officers had worked up the case.

JEN. ALGER was elected Commander-in-Chief of the G. A. R., at Milwaukee, over several aspirants equally as worthy, but who did not have as much buncle. He thinks the soldier vote is the balance of power and on it he hopes to be nominated and elected president in 1892. Grover Cleveland or some other good democrat will play smash with this calculation though, or all signs go for nothing.

SIMP A local politician, who has waited and waited in vain for Harrison to do something for him, "This is a d—n cold year for a republican who does not belong to the Presbyterian Church and is not able to wear kid gloves!" Complaints are coming up thick and heavy against Harrison for not turning the rascals out and they are not confined only to Kentucky. Meanwhile Harrison is enjoying himself in Deer Park.

GREAT excitement was created here Saturday by W. H. Higgins' horse dashing up Lancaster street and plowing on the walk at the postoffice, breaking in the cellar door and tearing all the loose horses in town. Five other teams started and things were pretty lively for a while, but there was no damage done save some injuries to the colored driver, Alex Walker, the Higgins horse and the wagon, the latter being badly wrecked. The runaway was commenced by the wagon overturning in being turned around behind Tom Metcalf's store.

THE PINEVILLE MESSENGER says C. M. Norris, of Paint Lick, who gained two pounds in weight every day he was at Clear Creek Springs near there, "caught a bass which weighed 4½ pounds, and when it was cut open two young birds with feathers on them were found inside of it, and they were not Jonah birds either. Whether this fish climbed a tree and caught the birds or whether they had been bathing in the creek and were caught, Mr. Norris could not say. But the birds were there. Mr. Norris also killed a 16½ pound wild turkey crossing the road 80 yards in advance of him. The turkey had two long tail feathers in length like a peacock's. The bird was killed with a Winchester." These stories may do tell to the marines, but Mr. Norris will not be able to get Sam Miller, Tom Wheritt, Judge Walker or any of the other fishermen and hunters of Garrard to swallow it.

TWENTY-FOUR lone and lonesome prohibitionists held a pow-wow in one of the grand jury rooms with closed doors, yesterday, and their deliberations were not made public. LINCOLN COUNTY now has a lady school commissioner. Miss Kate Boggs qualified yesterday with Dr. John A. Boggs, J. W. Alcorn and Dr. Ed Alcorn as securities on a bond of $25,000. It was quite amusing to hear Miss Kate swear that she had not fought a duel or sent a challenge in the last 12 months, but such was the form of the oath.

Ingalls on Prohibition in Kansas.

"Kansas has abolished the saloon. The open dram shop is as extent as the sale of indulgence. A drunkard is a phenomenon. The barkeeper has joined the troubadour, the crusader and the sound-builder. The brewery, the distillery and the bonded warehouse are known only to the archdeacon.

Civilization breaks up the frontier in turbulent and lawless mass of humanity to whose existence alcohol in some form seems indispensable; and to those who can recall the pioneer period of the State, it seems incredible that among a population of 1,700,000 people, extending from the Missouri river to Colorado, and from Nebraska to Oklahoma, there is not a place where the hilarious wayfarer can enter and laying down a coin, demand his glass of beer.

This does not imply that absolute dryness prevails everywhere, or that social irrigation has entirely disappeared. In the few localities where public opinion does not sustain the law, it is habitually and flagrantly disregarded, and the petite that craves indulgence is gratified, at the sacrifice of those moral restraints which are the barriers and safeguards of society.

Sales for the specified purpose are confined to druggists, who, hedged about with the stringent provisions of the pharmacy act, the penalties for the violation of which are ingeniously rigid and have not been exceeded for severity since the code of Draco. Physicians' prescriptions, affidavits and signatures for the identification of the purchaser and specification of the disease for which he needs the pernicious fluid is required, and evasions are punished with fine, forfeiture and imprisonment. The sales of bitters, elixirs and other concoctions containing alcohol, has undoubtedly increased. Malaria, indigestion and other disorders have been developed in localities previously considered salubrious, and there is probably no town of 1,000 inhabitants where a bilious, but discreet inquirer, if properly vouchsed for, cannot find at his hotel or the club, or in the cellar of a friend a bottle of beer or a flask of whisky.

But the habit of drinking is dying out.

Temptation being removed from the young and infirm, they have been fortified and reinvigorated. The liquor seller is being proscribed as an outlaw and his vocation is disreputable.

"Drinking being stigmatized, is out of fashion, and the consumption of intoxicants has enormously decreased. Intelligent and conservative observers estimate the reduction at 90 per cent.; it can not be less than 75. The increase in the number of internal revenue stamps sold by the collector from year to year is explained by the fact that they are required by all druggists, and many of them are repetitions and renewals for short terms. The places where liquors are sold, legally and illegally, have been reduced from one to every 674 of the entire population in 1880 to one for every 2,220 in 1888." —Forum.

When asked if he had anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced on him, Judge Pallian read a long paper in which he thanked the court and the jury for as fair a trial as he could expect under the circumstances, with the manufacturer testimony against him. He grew very pathetic in speaking of his doubly-orphaned children and called upon God and the good people to see that they were brought up to be good citizens. Continuing he said, with mock heroism:

"I wish to state here that in case of my death while in the prison I want to be buried at Hartsburg, with a plain marble slab over my grave with this inscription upon it: 'A. M. Pallian, died a martyr for home sanctity and for trying to save his children from shame and disgrace. Was born September 15, 1840, and sentenced to the Kentucky penitentiary for 15 years, August 28, 1889, for killing James Miller, July 6, 1888, because he believed beyond a doubt that he had abandoned his wife and alienated her from his bosom.' I want this inscription to stand and be now recognized as a witness which will appear in the heavenly court and there testify as to who swore the truth at this earthly trial. I would rather have this epitaph upon my grave than a monument which might cost a million and be covered with inscriptions of worldly fame."

He further said that he ought to have either been acquitted or hanged, and most people agree with him that he should have suffered the latter.

Prohibition is not likely to give any further trouble in the present generation and the next will be fully capable of taking care of themselves. For the present, at least, the prohibitionists ought to give the country a rest.—Bristol (Tenn.) Courier.

The Pride of His Class.

He was a bright, handsome boy of sixteen, sunny-tempered, frank and engaging, the delight of his parents, the joy of his home and the pride of his class. But a shadow fell across his bright prospects. He began with a trifling cold; some cankerous premonitions of consumption, his strength failed, his cheeks grew hollow, and he seemed doomed to early grave. Then a friend advised Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. He tried it and was saved. Health and strength returned, his cheerful voice rang out again across the school playground, his cheeks again grew rosy, his eyes bright. He is still "the pride of his class" and he graduates this year with highest honor.

Chronic Nasal Catarrh positively cured by Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, see, by druggists.

The Vestibule as a Safety Device.

Closely related to the coupler is the vestibule, which within the last two years has become so fashionable. The vestibule is not merely a luxury, but has a certain value as a safety device. The full measure of this value has not yet been proved. Occasionally lives are lost by passengers falling from or being blown from the platforms of moving trains. Such accidents the vestibule will prevent, and, further, it decreases the oscillation of the cars, and thus, to some degree, helps to prevent derailment. It is also some protection against telescoping. A few months ago a coal train on a double-track road was derailed, and four cars were thrown across in front of a solid vestibule train of seven Pullman cars approaching on the other track. The engine of the vestibuled train was completely wrecked. Even the sheet iron jacket was stripped off from it. The engineer and fireman were instantly killed, but not another person on the train was injured. They escaped, partly because the cars were strong and partly, doubtless, because the vestibules helped to keep the platforms on the same level and in line, and thus to prevent crushing of the ends of the cars.—From September Scribner.

Bad Man From Bitter Creek.

The notorious Eb Cooley, of Garrard county, who has killed two men and shot the eyes out of a third, honored Richmond with a visit on Tuesday. Soon after his arrival he began to fill up on whisky, and, with two pistols buckled around him, proceeded to take the town. Forgetting that he was not in Lancaster, he visited several business houses, insulted several citizens and threatened to shoot an inoffensive Irishman. The police, however, attended to his ease and ran him in. He was arrested on three warrants, two for concealed weapons and one for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. On Wednesday he was taken before Judge Rice and one of the concealed weapon cases was tried with a conviction, giving him ten days in jail and fining him $50. The other two cases were continued until Cooley served out his first sentence, when most probably the dose will be repeated. Bad men from Garrard should read this story and hereafter avoid Richmond in their travels. It is not a good town for their business and hasn't been since the memorable Saunders affair of ten years ago.—Richmond Register.

Dr. Charles H. Land, of Detroit, Michigan, has invented a means of restoring decayed or imperfect teeth to their original size, shape and color. The invention provides a method of moulding veneers or other substance into sections corresponding to the form of the lost portions of decayed teeth, by swaging or burnishing a thin metallic matrix of suitable metal into the cavity of the tooth and producing with such matrix a solid section or plug of any desired material corresponding to the shape of the cavity in the natural tooth, this plug being fixed in position by suitable cements, either with or without matrix.

The cigarette habit is greatly increasing. The commissioners of internal revenue collected taxes last year upon 2,151,513,300, which is an increase of 388,79,260 over the preceding fiscal year. The number taxed is a pretty good indication of the consumption. The number of cigars taxed during the last fiscal year was 3,867,385,640, and increase of 22,686,900, showing that the consumption of cigarettes is increasing more rapidly than that of cigars.

It is estimated that over $2,500,000,000 is invested in the dairy business in this country; that 15,000,000 cows supply the raw material; that to feed these cows 60,000,000 acres of land is under cultivation; that 750,000 men are employed in the business and over 1,000,000 horses.

A shoemaker hung out a new sign and then wondered what passers-by found so amusing. His sign ran as follows: "Don't go elsewhere to get cheated. Walk in here."
